Blog TAB broadcasted this segment featuring WGBH reporter Ann Haas' recent interview with Agent James Hoare of the Boston PD. Watch it here. Our mission is not to air the specific comments below (viewer discretion is advised if you're sensitive to this type of viewing), but rather to share the full context in which the ACLU made its points. Since 2002, the ACLU-Massachusetts is working to protect the rights of individuals who are involved with the legal justice system. In the following interview, we discuss the issues of police brutality and excessive force, the use of misleading tactics by police forces, and the ACLU's Mission and Goals as they relate to police reform. The judge in the case, Dana S. Lempke, has sided with the Massachusetts ACLU and Judge Martin P. Gayton. In his ruling, Judge Gayton criticized the use of the two part booking card form, stating, "Given its long history of use in Massachusetts and the fact that it was created pursuant to a clear, formal regulation promulgated by a state agency, it is difficult to imagine that the jailers intended the manner in which it was used to be anything other than what it 09e8f5149f
