(b) Description of the Related Art In order to provide sufficient power for each of the devices in a power supplying system, power supply systems can be separately provided for each of the devices. However, if separate power supply systems are used for each of the devices of the power supplying system, it is inconvenient to control the power supply system and the power consumption of each of the devices in the power supplying system needs to be frequently controlled. If, instead of using separate power supply systems for each of the devices of the power supplying system, a single power supply system is used for all of the devices of the power supplying system, there is no need to manage the power consumed by each of the devices of the power supplying system. In this case, if a general device such as a controller is provided in the power supplying system, the general device may power on/off other devices that have a lower priority than the general device. As a result, the power supplying system may not function as designed. The above information disclosed in this Background section is only for enhancement of understanding of the background of the invention and therefore it may contain information that does not form the prior art that is already known in this country to a person of ordinary skill in the art.Q: How to use spongyCasts(in NoSQL world) to optimize MySQL queries, as the article states This was awesome article: 6d1f23a050
